Italian National Research Council Institute for Composite and Biomedical Materials – IMBC

Prof. Guilhermino J M. Fechine and Prof. Ricardo J. E. Andrade stayed all month of June (2019) at the Italian National Research Council - Institute for Composite and Biomedical Materials - IMCB, Portici, Italy.

This period was devoted to the development of research in the area of polymeric nanocomposites with graphene and its derivatives, acting mainly on characterization using Low Angle X-ray Scattering (SAXS) technique. This is a collaboration with researcher Dr. Marino Lavorgna, director of IMCB.
