Event “III BRAZILIAN INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF INFRASTRUCTURE AND INNOVATION” – December, 09 - 2019

3 international researchers participated at the "III BRAZILIAN INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF INFRASTRUCTURE AND INNOVATION"

Prof Rodolfo Martinez Gutierrez, from the Technological Institute of Tijuana, Prof Albert Ruda Gonzalez, from the Universitat de Girona in Spain and Prof Ernani Contipelli, from the International Business School The Hague, in the Netherlands, discussed the climate emergency, as well as nanotechnology and aspects of innovation for national economic development, as a means of comparison between countries.

Prior to the congress, there was an announcement for the presentation of scientific articles on the following axes “National System of Science, Technology and Innovation”; “Industrial and innovation policies”; "The technological and innovative challenges for Brazilian companies and “Law and applied innovation”. The 12 selected articles will be part of a collective work to be published in 2020.
