Main results:

The mission obtained as a general result a fruitful academic dialogue with partners of the Universities visited and involved, through study, research and debate activities, with the primary objective of knowing the socio-spatial reality of CABA (Autonomous City of Buenos Aires) and its Metropolitan Region. Based on these studies, they could be agreed and started with Profs. Alicia Novick (UNGS and UBA) and Andres de Borthagaray (UBA and UCO), joint articles to be submitted to qualified journals of stratum A.

Specific results: identification of relevant themes for joint intellectual production, related to Urban Plans and Urban Projects and contemporary interventions. These reveal the relationships of actors and forces at play between state and real estate market, land use and occupation, and the role of Urban Projects as mediators of these forces. Research problems were identified that will underlie the joint productions, such as the market-driven real estate development in Porto Madero (2005-2019). We studied yet the role and performance of the intervention called "Paseo del Bajo", in which factors such as the possible offer of a new environment and public space and its role as an expressive articulator of mobility, in its various modes along its path.
